The Nomination Committee has, as the basis for its proposals, had information about Projektengagemang’s activities and strategic position provided by the Company's CEO and group CEO Per Hedebäck, vice president and CFO Peter Sandberg, and the chairman of the board of director Gunnar Grönkvist. An evaluation of the Board’s work has been carried out, the Nomination Committee has carefully taken note of the results. The Nomination Committee has based on the evaluation assessed to what extent the current Board of Directors meets the requirements in terms of the Company’s future direction and development. Among other things, the size and composition of the Board, for example industry experience, competence and diversity, have been discussed. The Nomination Committee considers that gender balance is important, and that it is important that future Nomination Committees continue to work actively on the issue.

Nomination Committee’s reasoned statement regarding its proposals for election of directors
The Nomination Committee has been informed that all current members, except Gunnar Grönkvist, are available for re-election. It is the Nomination Committee's opinion that the proposed Board of Directors has an appropriate composition and meets the requirements that Projektengagemang’s current position and future developments require. In the composition of the Board of Directors, the Nomination Committee takes into account, among other things, the experience and competence needed in the Board of Directors and its committees and also the value of diversity in terms of age and gender and the need for renewal. The Nomination Committee also assesses the appropriateness of the size of the Board of Directors and the candidates’ ability to allocate the required time for the assignment. The Nomination Committee primarily seeks potential Board of Directors for the coming mandate period, but also consider future needs for competence.

The Nomination Committee has discussed the requirements in rule 4.1 of the Swedish Corporate Governance Code, which has been used as a diversity policy, and believes that the board of directors, taking into account the Company’s prevailing situation, gets a composition that is in line with this and has sought both diversity and to achieve a gender balance. According to the proposal, it is re-election of six directors. Gunnar Grönkvist has declined re-election.

All in all, the Nomination Committee considers that the proposed Directors with their respective experiences will add valuable expertise and experience to the Board of Directors. The elected board represents both continuity and development and the work of the Board of Directors is driven by the goal of utilizing both perspectives.
In assessing the independence of the proposed Board of Directors, the Nomination Committee has found that its proposal for the Board of Directors of the Company meets the requirements for independence set out in the Swedish Corporate Governance Code. Of the proposed Board of Directors, all, except Per Göransson and Per-Arne Gustavsson, shall be regarded as independent in relation to the Company and the management. The composition of the Board of Directors is further deemed to fulfil the requirement that at least two of the Board of Directors who are independent in relation to the Company and the executive management are also independent in relation to the Company's major shareholders, due to that Lars-Erik Blom, Britta Dalunde and Carina Malmgren Heander is deemed to be independent in relation to the Company and the management and in relation to major shareholders. Öystein Engebretsen is deemed to be independent in relation to the Company and the management but not in relation to major shareholders. Per Göransson and Per-Arne Gustavsson are deemed to be independent in relation to the Company and the management and dependent in relation to the major shareholders.
